NO. 102—SEVENTY-SIXTH YEAR VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, TUESDAY, APRIL 10, 1934 EIGHTEEN PAGES

PREMIER SAYS OTTAWA TO ALLOW S.P.A.

HOUE RIDES BACK ON TOP OF LANDSLIDE

Three Other Candidates for Montreal Mayoralty Lose Their Deposits
NO SUCH MAJORITY IN CITY'S HISTORY

MONTREAL, April 9 (CP).—On a popular landslide, unique in the stormy election history of the city, Camille Houde, today, swept back into the Canadian political picture as mayor of Montreal. Emerging out of two years' obscurity, the man who was mayor from 1928 to 1932, and once leader of the Quebec Conservative party, brushed aside a candidate who had received the blessing of the provincial Liberals, and two other opponents, in a four-cornered fight.

LOSE THEIR DEPOSITS
So great was the flock of voters to the Houde standard—raised with no party support—that all three of his opponents, Dr. Anatole Plante, Liberal member of the Quebec Legislature for Montreal-Mercier; Saluste Lavoy, K.C., lawyer and soldier, and Pierre Desrosiers, Laborite, lost their deposits.

The majority for Mr. Houde over Dr. Plante was 53,531, subject to final revision. With all 1,026 polls reported, the vote was: Houde, 90,389; Plante, 36,838; Lavoy, 12,930; Desrosiers, 3,010.

Never before had a candidate completed such a huge majority in Montreal. Nearest approach was the 40,898 majority Mr. Houde scored over J. A. Matheson in 1930. Two years ago, when Hon. Fernand Rinfret ran to end the grip of Mr. Houde on the mayoral chair, Mr. Houde was defeated by 67,544 votes to 54,718. In 1928, Mr. Houde defeated the then perennial mayor of Montreal, Hon. Mederic Martin, by 21,799 votes majority.

Flood Endangers Villages in Ontario

FEAR that floods on the Grand River, Ontario, would wash away the iron bridge at Waldemar, disturbed residents of the Grand Valley, last week. Flood waters rose to unprecedented heights, and ice jams bent the structure and moved it from its foundations. Above shows a scene of the ice pile-up, with the iron bridge in the background getting the full force of the attack.

Desire for Smoke Proves Expensive And Nearly Fatal

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 9 (AP).—While Howard Holway slept, a gas jet in the kitchen stove of his apartment gave off fumes. Early today he awoke, yawned and lighted a cigarette. A terrific explosion hurled him through the side of the apartment building, drove sixty scantily-clad persons into the street, and caused $30,000 damage. Holway was found by firemen in a vacant lot adjoining the building. He was burned and dazed.

FEDERAL HOUSE TO PROBE HANDLING OF PROVINCIAL RELIEF

May Provide Solution To Jewel Case

Public Accounts Committee of Parliament to Investigate Liberal Leader's Charges of Looting of Treasury—Prime Minister Says B.C. Attorney-General Invited Chance for Grievance

Auditor-General Is Blamed For Laxity of Inspections

OTTAWA, April 9 (CP).—Investigation of Federal relief expenditures, by the public accounts committee of the House of Commons, was promised tonight by Premier R. B. Bennett. Demand for the probe came from Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, who said the Dominion Treasury had been looted by provinces and municipalities through lack of systematic audits. Detailed audit of Federal relief expenditures would disclose "one of the most shocking stories this country has ever heard," said the Opposition leader. The Government had invited scandals and treasury-looting by lack of auditing control, he charged.

"If a province has defrauded us we will get the money back," promised the Prime Minister, emphasizing his words by tapping his finger nails on the broad top of his desk while a silence fell across the chamber.

SERVICE TO BE DOUBLED

Grace Line Will Give Victoria Weekly Water Connection With California

Making an announcement of the greatest importance to Victorians, Harold Husband, general agent of the Grace Line here, stated yesterday afternoon that, following the arrival of the liner St. Santa Rosa here on May 5 from New York, service to be provided with a weekly service by water to and from California ports.

This information had come direct to the local representative of the steamship line from the headquarters of the company in San Francisco, and indicated the great faith Grace Line officials had in this service of the company as a playground for tourists from America. Instead of a two-day stopover here, tourists who might not have a full two weeks to their disposal under the present schedule, will now be able to have a week at least to see the many scenic attractions of Victoria and its surroundings.

Since the Grace Line inaugurated the extension of its inter-coastal service from California ports to take in Victoria and Seattle late in 1932, passenger traffic especially has increased to such proportions as to tax the capacity of the four liners placed on the route. Mr. Husband intimated. During the Summer of 1933, the ships could not begin to handle the traffic offering, hundreds of passengers being refused transportation aboard the Santa Rosa line between California and the Northwest, while Northwest travelers seeking a passage to Havana or New York could not be provided with space.

SWITCHED LAY-OVER
This condition gave the management of the Grace Line considerable concern. They considered augmenting the service with additional ships, giving this section a weekly service from New York, but having no available ships of the same class.

INCREASED TAX SOUGHT ON OIL

Island Interests Say Fuel Oil Displacing B.C. Product Severely

Asked what was the Government's reaction to a request that it increase the Provincial tax on fuel oil consumption from half a cent a gallon to two cents a gallon, as a means of promoting coal use, Hon. G. S. Pearson, Minister of Finance, declared yesterday he had no comment to make at this time. The Government, he stressed, had heard the delegation, but had not made any promises.

A delegation representing Vancouver Island civic and board of trade authorities waited on the Cabinet, yesterday morning, to ask protection from foreign competition in the fuel field. Oil consumption in the province in 1931, it was declared, had displaced the equivalent of 500,000 tons of native coal.

A tax of between one and two cents per gallon would divert some of the lost market to coal use, to benefit the British Columbia coal industry and improve employment in Island mines, it was represented.

The delegation was composed of W. W. Mitchell, president of the Board of Trade; Mayor J. Barby and Alderman P. Inkster, of Nanaimo; Mayor W. W. Walkem and City Clerk Morrison, of Ladysmith, and Thomas Graham, M.E., of Comox.

Litigation during the regime of the late administration reaffirmed the right of the Province to tax fuel oil users.

John Dean Offers To Bear One-Third Of Survey Expense

Deposits $1,000 Cheque as His Share of Cost to Secure Thorough Report on Waterworks—Irrigation Should Boost Profits

A CHEQUE for $1,000, to cover one-third of the cost of a survey of Victoria's waterworks system, with a view to putting it on a more profitable basis, was deposited with the city clerk, M. F. Hunter, yesterday, by John Dean, who has renewed his offer to share in the expense of such a survey.

Mr. Dean, in a brief containing several letters, tells of negotiations he has carried on with an English firm of engineers, which would be prepared to make the survey at an approximate cost of $3,000. This firm, he states, has expert knowledge of waterworks matters, having specialized in this type of work.

In filing a $1,000 cheque to cover one-third of the cost out of his own funds, Mr. Dean said he believed the report justified because, firstly:

TWO REASONS
"We have an abundance of water waiting into the sea, from high levels already connected with conduits, which would carry it to the contiguous Saanich area in their spare time from carrying domestic supply."

"Secondly, said water would be a great aid to intensive cultivation in the Saanich or any other area that would justify its requirement."

Much of the data needed is easily obtained.

CERTAIN SALARIES TO BE RESTORED

Civil Servants Receiving Less Than $1,000 a Year Not Subject to Present Deduction

OTTAWA, April 9 (CP).—Government employees in receipt of salaries of $1,000 per annum or less will in future not be subject to the 10 per cent deduction. Those in receipt of salaries above $1,000 will continue to suffer the deduction.

Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, today brought in his expected bill amending the Salary Deduction Act of 1932. He stated it was estimated approximately 18,000 employees would benefit through the change.

FACTIONS ENGAGE IN SHARP RIOTS

Clashes in Belgium Focus Attention on "Blue Shirts"—One Man Killed

BRUSSELS, April 9 (AP).—Week-end political clashes in which a Communist was slain and about a score of persons injured focused attention for the first time on the rise of the nationalist organization called the Blue Shirts.

The Blue Shirts are pledged to rid Belgium of all political parties and the "present rotten regime," and so dangerous did they seem tonight that the Government ordered strict parliamentary consideration of a measure banning the wearing of political uniforms by any group.

Rioting started when the Nationalists opened their Brussels headquarters, and the clashes spread throughout the capital and neighboring localities.

President Eamon De Valera, sitting beside the Minister, and several other persons at the table, gave him assistance but he died within a few minutes.

AGED MAN CRITICALLY INJURED WHEN AUTOS COLLIDE IN OAK BAY

Albert Sutcliffe Receives Fractured Skull—Is Thrown Against Side of Machine When Cars Skid on Wet Pavement

ALBERT Sutcliffe, eighty-two years of age, 1542 Wilmut Place, was critically injured in an automobile collision at the intersection of Monterey Avenue and Windsor Road, yesterday.

The injured man was taken by C. & G. ambulance to the Royal Jubilee Hospital, where it was ascertained he was suffering from a fractured skull. His condition was reported serious at a late hour last night.

Mr. Sutcliffe, about 5:20 p.m. yesterday, was proceeding west on Windsor Road when his car collided with the automobile driven north on Monterey Avenue by W. C. O'zard, 602 Monterey Avenue. Both drivers applied their brakes, but the machines skidded on the wet pavement. Force of the impact knocked Mr. Sutcliffe's head against the inside of his auto, causing the fracture, police stated. Mr. O'zard escaped with only minor bruises.

Oak Bay police are anxious to locate a nurse, believed to be Miss Whitelock, or Miss Whitehead, who witnessed the accident and rendered first aid to Mr. Sutcliffe.

ARMY OFFICERS LEADERS IN PLOT

Planned to Bomb Cathedral, King, His Lady Friend, and Members of Government

BUCHAREST, Rumania, April 9 (AP).—A plot to bomb the Domnitsa Basilica Cathedral at an orthodox midnight Easter service and kill King Carol, the Crown Prince, and members of the Government was believed by authorities here tonight to have been planned by Colonel Prekup, of the Rumanian general staff.

Officials believed, also, it had been planned to slay Mme. Magda Lupescu, friend of King Carol. The affair was kept a secret from the public throughout the Easter holidays and even political circles were ignorant of it.

Boy's Love for Dog Alleged as Motive In Murder of Child

Seeking New Imperial Conference Before Agreements Void

LONDON, April 10 (CP).—The News Chronicle, London Liberal daily, said today it understood the Prime Ministers of Canada, Australia and New Zealand would ask soon that the British Government call an Imperial Economic Conference before the Ottawa Conference agreements relating to dairy products, expire. The agreements expire in June, 1935.

The newspaper added: It has been said freely in Canadian circles, that Walter Elliot, Minister of Agriculture, is determined to secure, next year, wholesale restrictions of imports of dairy produce from the Dominions.

ANIMAL WAS SHOT FOR BITING LAD

Little Johnnie McFarlane's broken body is in the morgue at Powell River; his alleged slayer is held by Juvenile Court officers to answer to a charge of murder, and a horrified community is bewildered that such an atrocity should have occurred within its peaceful precincts—and all because of the love of a dolt, witted boy for his dog.

Just a mongrel dog it was; the kind of a nondescript animal that is given away, as a puppy, to save someone the unpleasant task of drowning it, but it adored its young master, and he idolized his dumb four-footed friend. The name of the young master? It can not be published—for he is the boy who, police say, has confessed that he took the life of his former playmate in payment for that of his dog—and the paternal laws of Canada protect the identity of youthful offenders by withholding their names from publication. The pathetic tale of friendship turned to hate, of disappointment and grief inciting to murder, as allegedly confessed, may, however, be revealed.

About a year ago Johnnie McFarlane—then aged nine—had as a playmate a dog named "Duke."

ASKS FOR STAY OF PROCEEDINGS

Crown Makes Application Following Conviction for Conspiracy to Publish Defamatory Libel

VANCOUVER, April 9 (CP).—Stay of proceedings to a defamatory libel charge against Arthur W. Clayton, forty, literary agent, was entered by the Crown in assize court today following the conviction, Friday, of Clayton and two other men for conspiracy to threaten to publish a defamatory libel with intent to extort money.

The alleged defamatory libel related to the publication of a sheet, entitled "Daylight," which entered into the conspiracy charge. The jury found it was an attempt to blackmail Colonel Victor Spencer.

Fisherman Towed to Sea When Sea Lion Is Hooked

TOFINO, April 8 (By Mail).—A Uchelet Indian, while fishing in his canoe between Centre Island and the Uchelet Lighthouse, was taken by a sudden and terrifying ride, and returned to the reservation in a startled and dazed condition.

After telling his story, which was corroborated by other members of the fishing fleet, who were nearby at the time, Monday Jarmett stated that he felt certain that the sea lion was his last ride.

Upon being questioned, he said that he was fishing in his canoe off the lighthouse, as was his custom on calm days, when suddenly he found himself being towed out to sea at a fast speed.

A SUDDEN RIDE
He was fishing for cod, had baited the hook with herring and had run out a very long line. Unexpectedly he felt a quick, hard tug on the line. He hurriedly pulled in the slack, but when it gave another tug, he was jerked forward.

OFFICE PLANS ARE FINISHED

Committee Will Ask City Council to Authorize Expenditure of $1,500

Plans for the remodeling of a building near the southwest corner of Broad and Johnson Streets for the city's relief office have been completed, and the City Council will be asked by the relief committee, of which Alderman T. W. Hawkins is chairman, to authorize expenditure of $1,500 for the carrying out of these plans.

At present the relief offices occupy rented premises. The building near the southwest corner of Broad and Johnson Streets is owned by the city. While the cost of repairing the place would be $1,500, it is expected that the city would save more than this amount by not having to pay rental.

The relief committee also decided to spend $25 on the purchase of seed for those participating in the garden contest arranged for those on relief. Some seventy persons have entered the contest, but eighteen entrants have failed to call at the relief office for their seed.

CITY TEMPLE TO CARRY ON

Membership of Institution Votes to Continue as an Independent Church

The Victoria City Temple will be carried on as an independent institution for the time being, and every effort will be made to secure a permanent pastor to replace Rev. Dr. Clem Davies, who resigned on April 1, after ten years of service in the church.

This was decided at a largely-attended meeting of the membership at the temple last night. The vote to continue was unanimous. Although the vote to carry on as an independent institution was carried without question, it was understood by the membership that the official board of management would be at liberty to consider other policies, even to the possibility of affiliation with an established church.

The question of finances and the ability of the institution to meet future liabilities was the main problem of the board of management. It was declared by Bro. Holt, president of the board, Mr. Holt, however, was able to give encouragement to the membership by stating that negotiations were being carried on with a Canadian insurance corporation, whereby it might be possible to realize about $5,000 by cash surrender of insurance policies, thereby reducing the mortgage indebtedness to something more than $9,000, and placing it on a straight mortgage basis. If the negotiations were successful, the temple board would be relieved of the payment of insurance premiums. Mr. Holt stated, Dr. George Wardell, chairman of the finance committee, assured the membership that, with courage and the will to sacrifice, the financial difficulties of the institution could be overcome. He admitted the problem was a serious one, but he did not believe it was insurmountable.

PASTOR'S RETIREMENT
At the commencement of the meeting, George Holt presided, and after the opening ceremonies, handed the gavel over to G. A. A. Hebbert, who conducted the proceedings. Mr. Holt was asked to resign as pastor, and the resignation was accepted. Reasons for the retirement of Dr. Davies. He told the members that Dr. Davies had consulted the board of management some weeks ago and had intimated he intended to take a tour party to Germany, and then spend some time in Russia to prepare for a lecture tour through Canada, and would require leave of absence for at least six months. Mr. Holt further explained that the board had decided to accept the resignation of Dr. Davies, and the announcement of the resignation of Dr. Davies, on April 1, came as a distinct surprise to him and other members of the church, who were under the impression that Dr. Davies was intending to remain until the end of June.

PRESENTS BALANCE SHEET
Mr. Holt also presented the balance sheet, as prepared by a chartered accountant, showing the financial standing of the institution at the end of February. The sheet was shown as slightly over $33,000, with liabilities around $15,000.

Following the decision to carry on the work of the church, the camp operators supply committee was given authority to arrange for pulp supply until a permanent pastor is appointed. Votes of confidence were accorded Mr. Holt and the former secretary, A. L. Oakley.

THE city police force will hold a church parade on Sunday morning, April 22, it was announced yesterday by Chief of Police Thomas Heatley, following a meeting of the police commission.

The parade will be held at the invitation of Rev. E. F. Church, pastor of 2300 Metropolitan Church. Mayor David Leeming signified his intention of being present, and it is expected that the other commissioners, His Honor Judge P. S. Lampman and Magistrate George Jay also will be in attendance.

NEW ORDER BUT NO SETTLEMENT

Tie-Up in British Columbia Lumber Camps Is Affecting Export Sales

Having passed two orders dealing with logging and sawmill operations, the Board of Industrial Relations will turn its attention next to a consideration of the Hours of Work Act, as amended. It was announced yesterday at the Legislative Buildings.

The effect of the board's first orders cannot immediately be ascertained, partly for the reason that neither will go into effect until April 26.

The tie-up in some of the lumber camps, said to affect 2500 men, reported little changed yesterday. The Department of Labor was advised that camp 3 of the Comox Logging & Railway Company had reopened, but intimated no other reports were yet to hand.

EXPORT TRADE AFFECTED
Meanwhile it was reported that British Columbia was losing ground in export sales to China, under American competition, while one large order for the United Kingdom market had to be turned down because of price considerations.

Broadly speaking, the British Columbia industry is operating at an annual volume of around 1,000,000-1,200,000 f.b.m., compared with 2,200,000-3,000,000 f.b.m. in the United States. The bulk of the business is now exported, but by world price conditions, with only a small fraction left of what used to be 1,000,000-1,200,000 f.b.m. on this continent.

OPERATORS' STAND
VANCOUVER, April 9 (CP).—Minimum wages for the logging industry on the British Columbia coast, established Saturday by the Board of Industrial Relations in session at Victoria, will have no effect on the strike that has tied up the industry for the last three months as far as the camp operators are concerned, R. V. Stuart, secretary of the British Columbia Loggers' Association, stated today.

The operators stopped negotiations with the strikers five weeks ago and have no intentions of reopening them, Mr. Stuart said. He added that most of the camp operators are pulling in their machinery until after the fire season and would probably keep their camps closed.

Adam Bell, deputy minister of labor, investigated the situation and drew up a wage scale, which was accepted as agreeable to the operators. After discussion, however, the strikers refused to accept the scale. As a step toward relieving the strike, the Board of Industrial Relations, created by the last Legislature, established minimum wages of forty cents per hour for loggers, thirty-seven and a half cents per hour for track and grade men, and $2.75 a day for cook and bunkhouse employees. The sawmill order set thirty-five cents an hour as a basic minimum, with one-quarter of a plant's personnel subject to a twenty-five-cent minimum.

WANT COMMITTEES
VANCOUVER, April 9 (CP).—Although the minimum wage of forty cents per hour established for loggers in British Columbia by the Board of Industrial Relations is satisfactory to the striking loggers, they have refused to return to work unless the camp operators grant recognition of camp committees.

At a mass meeting of more than 1,000 strikers last night, the men accepted the minimum wage as a basis whereby the higher wages can be adjusted proportionately. It was indicated the central strike committee would use the proposed wage scale as a basis of negotiations with the operators to further their fight for recognition of camp committees.

PLEASED WITH COAST UNITS

Maj.-Gen. MacBrien, Royal Canadian Mounted Police Head, Visits City

MAJOR-GENERAL J. H. MACBRIEN

Expressing himself as well satisfied with the condition of the force in both the Victoria and Vancouver branches, Major-General J. H. MacBrien, chief commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, left Victoria last night after a flying visit here on his semi-annual trip of inspection to the Coast.

"The force never looked better," declared General MacBrien yesterday at the Empress Hotel. "Conditions at every unit are excellent; those on the Coast being in splendid condition."

General MacBrien stated that he had had no conversations with the Provincial Government regarding the policing of these territories by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. During his brief visit to the city, the chief commissioner of the Mounted Police went to the police barracks at Esquimalt, where he met Sergeant W. Withers and also visited the local offices of the force in Victoria.

Since he took over control of the redcoats throughout Canada, the policing of six provinces and the preventative service have been brought within the jurisdiction of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. He stated there were no new developments in the service. During his return journey East, the general will stop off at Edmonton, Regina and Winnipeg for inspections.

Demonstrations of how to give hand signals properly will be held at the intersections of Yates and Douglas Streets, and Yates and Blanshard Streets at 12:30 o'clock noon, every day during the week. Brake tests, proper safety equipment inspections, examinations on how to enter and leave service stations properly, and other safety ideas will be carried out during the week.

RECALL VIMY AT CHURCH SERVICE
Canadian Scottish Battalion March to Metropolitan United on Anniversary

Officers, N.C.O.'s and men of the 1st Battalion, Canadian Scottish, under Col. Brooke Stephenson, paid tribute to the efforts of the Canadian forces who took part in the Battle of Vimy Ridge, at a special service at Metropolitan Church on Sunday.

Leaving the Armories at 10:30 a.m., the battalion, led by their pipe and brass bands, marched to the church, where the service was conducted by the Rev. E. F. Church. Taking as his subject "How Far Have We Come?" Captain Church based his sermon on the part played by Canada in the taking of Vimy. He pointed out that in spite of the great sacrifices made in that and other encounters in the Great War, little lasting good had been done. Less than twenty years afterwards, he pointed out, the world was on the verge of another war.

The band of the regiment played accompaniments to the hymns during the service, and then accompanied the troops on their return march to the Armories.

"My wife says that if I were to die she would remain a widow." "Evidently she thinks there's not another man in the world like you." "On the contrary, she's afraid there may be, and that she'd get him."

Indignant About Deplorable Waste Of Natural Asset

Local Council of Women Protest Against Destruction of Wild Flowers—Suggested Action for Their Preservation is Advanced

THE "deplorable destruction" of one of Victoria's richest, most beautiful natural assets, her wild flowers, formed the subject of lengthy discussion at the regular meeting of the Local Council of Women, held yesterday afternoon.

Introduced in a reference to the matter made in the report of the committee, Mrs. Hugh Mackenzie, who was greatly distressed at the apparent lack of official effort to take some action for the preservation of wild flowers, the discussion brought a number of members to their feet in indignant protest against the wholesale and wanton destruction of the Scythianum (wild lily), in particular, and lady's slippers, wild violets, maidenhair, foxgloves, and many other plants and flowers that were formerly seen in charming profusion around the district.

In the absence of local action, and with protective legislation for dogwood alone, some speakers urged that the Minister of Education be approached to see if an educational campaign could not be carried through the schools, while others favored a three years' "close season" for picking in order that the wild flowers might have a chance to recover from the results of over-picking.

FEELING STRONG

"Just at this moment public sentiment is very strong on the subject of the picking of the wild lilies," said Mrs. Mackenzie in her report. It would, therefore, be a good time to press for action, she believed. Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin thought the key to the suppression of wanton picking was education and suggested that the School Board and the Parent-Teacher Association might be persuaded to give some assistance.

"It may be too late to do very much to help matters this year, but it is not too late to start propaganda for 1935," Mrs. Mackenzie suggested. Mrs. Mackenzie and her committee will consider the various suggestions advanced, and will also go into the matter of legality of selling wild flowers.

C. Spofford, the president, touched on the aesthetic aspect of wanton picking, commenting that in Japan the teaching of botany to children went hand in hand with the teaching of artistic arrangement of flowers. The Japanese, always artists in such matters, used only a few blossoms.

Mrs. Mackenzie's report was a summary of the correspondence and interviews with the Mayor, City Council and parks board concerning the proposed opening of trails into the Thetis Lake and Goldstream Falls areas.

GIVES ABSTRACT

Mrs. Spofford occupied the early part of the meeting with an abstract of the minutes of the executive meeting of the National Council of Women held at Toronto, February 27 and 28. Special reference was made to the fact that Miss Kydd had been congratulated on her recent election as president of the

Englishman Finds City Delightful

A much-traveled Englishman, George Bailey, of Leeds, who has been touring round the world for the past seven months, left here several days ago en route for the Old Land, after spending two weeks in what he described as the loveliest spot he had seen in all his journeyings, namely Victoria.

Mr. Bailey left England at the beginning of last September, and via the Mediterranean, with short stop-overs at various way ports, visited Bombay, Ceylon, Kandahar, Penang, Singapore, Hongkong, Shanghai, the Philippine Islands and Japan, New Guinea, Australia, New Zealand, the Hawaiian Islands, Fiji, etc., before crossing to this continent.

His special purpose in coming to Victoria was to visit old boyhood friends, Mrs. Alice Stout and her daughter, of Fairfield Road, and a boyhood chum, Oliver Stout, of Mackenzie Avenue, who, like himself, is a musician. He intended to stay here only two days, but became so enamored of the beauty of Victoria and the island that he stayed for a fortnight, and while here gave much pleasure to many persons, notably members of the Kiwanis Club, with his playing of the viola, an instrument on which he is a most accomplished performer.

He is continuing his journey back to England, in a leisurely way, across the continent, expecting to reach the States about the middle of May. While here he was a guest at the James Bay Hotel.

FISHERMAN TOWED TO SEA BY SEA LION

quick tug he realized he had hooked something extremely large. The line, which was securely fastened to the bow of the canoe, pulled taut, and then to Jarmett's great surprise and alarm, the light canoe shot forward, headed seaward and glided through the water at a very fast rate.

Helpless to act, without a knife or anything to cut the line and unable to untie it, the Indian balanced the craft as it sped out to sea while the occupant frantically awaited the inevitable.

COMES TO SURFACE

After thus traveling seaward for what the Indian said seemed to be hours to him, he saw at a distance ahead a sea lion rise on the crest of a long swell, blow, and then sink into the water. Then Jarmett realized that it was this huge creature that had swallowed the herring-baited hook and that, unable to free itself, was fleeing for the safety of deeper water, and incidentally taking the canoe and the terrified fisherman with it.

Suddenly the canoe lurched, the line slackened, and the craft came to a standstill. The lion rose again to the surface, blew, splashed, and disappeared from sight. Jarmett, upon hauling in the line, found that it had parted not far from the hook. The lion had the herring, but the Indian declared that certainly had been a lucky break for him.

CONSIDERED ILL OMEN

This terrifying experience of Monday Jarmett has been set down by the older and more superstitious residents of the reservation as an ill omen, and perhaps as a warning of the indiscriminate shooting of the sea lions in their nearby rookeries by the Indians for food and oil, and by the Government because they are harmful to the fishermen.

as the liners now operating, as the result of a mutual arrangement between the Grace Line and the Panama Pacific Line, sailings will be altered, the new arrangement enabling the Grace Line to utilize the six-day lay-over at East coast ports, which is the practice under the present schedule, to provide a weekly service between California and Victoria and Seattle.

Starting with the arrival of the Ss. Santa Rosa here on May 5, the new Grace Line schedule will go into effect. The ship will arrive here Saturday morning and return outbound to San Francisco on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock instead of Monday. She will reach San Francisco at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, returning here again Saturday, and sailing the next day, Sunday, at 7 o'clock in the evening for New York, via way ports. Following the Santa Rosa, all four of the liners will take the short sailing to the South, giving Victoria a weekly service with California on Grace Line ships.

LAD AT REST

The funeral of Mrs. Henrietta Peiky, who passed away at her home, East Saanich Road, last Thursday, took place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock from the West Saanich Catholic Church, where Rev. Father William Lemmens celebrated mass. The casket was surrounded with many beautiful flowers, and the service was very largely attended by relatives and friends. Interment was in the church cemetery.

Colitis Upsets Your Stomach

Thousands of sufferers think they have indigestion, when Colitis is the real cause of an upset stomach. Colitis is the medical name for functional irritation of the intestines and colon, due to acidity, and causes dull pains in the side, heavy feeling in abdomen, backache, gas, heartburn, bloating, diarrhea, bad breath, constipation, loss of sleep and loss of appetite. A doctor's prescription, known as Dr. Williams' Colitis Remedy, possesses the necessary triple action of relaxing, soothing and protecting irritated mucous membrane and combating acidity, thus giving quick results. It is not a laxative, but acts to help nature. Dr. Williams' Colitis Remedy will then be re-broadcasted by a C. S. Averill, second vice-president of the Victoria branch of the society.

A BEAUTIFUL BLEND—AND FROM NOW ON

SAILED HER LAST VOYAGE

"Blonde of the Sea" and Crew Are Given Up for Lost

After sailing the seas of the world for 1,200 miles in fifty-five years, according to her log, the white three-masted barque Guadalupe, with her master and her crew of twelve, has been given up as lost in the Caribbean Sea.

She has been unreported for twelve months since leaving the Tide Water Docks at Bayonne, N.J., last March, and pieces of wreckage, picked up by the Southern Coast, of Cuba, have been identified as belonging to the Guadalupe, known throughout the shipping world as the "Blonde of the Sea."

Of all the windjammers that sailed the seas in recent years, the Guadalupe probably was the most picturesque. Built by Cadiz seamen in Malacca, a group of islands off the coast of Spain in the Mediterranean, when sailing ships still played an important part in ocean shipping, the bark was commissioned for the Cuban trade in 1878. Next she became a stationary training ship in the port of Malaga, Spain.

CONSTANT SERVICE
Later Bosch & Sintes, distributors for the Tide Water Oil Company in the Canary Islands, bought the vessel and from then on until the fatal night last March, when her battle against Old Man Neptune came to an end, she was in constant service.

Guadalupe's skippers depended entirely upon sails, and scorned even the help of an auxiliary motor. She was 115 feet long and registered 500 gross tons. Strange and romantic episodes were recorded on her log. On April 22, 1921, this noteworthy event was mentioned by Captain Garzaon: "On the 22nd of April, 1921, the Guadalupe sailed from the Canary Islands to New York. On entering port, the pilot boarded the ship and told us we were flying the wrong flag. He said that Spain had become a republic and had adopted new colors. We did not take him seriously. However, as we were making for our pier, we passed a well-known ship and noticed it was flying an unfamiliar flag. Then we realized that the pilot had not been fooling. We immediately urged him to give us all the political news of the country; for we had no wireless aboard, we knew nothing of the changes in government. We could hardly believe that so much had happened since we left the Canaries. I went ashore the next day and ordered the new flag of the Republic of Spain."

GRACEFUL VESSEL
The beauty and grace of the Guadalupe were bywords among those old-fashioned sailors who used the machine-driven liners of modern times. She was always painted white, and became known as the "Blonde of the Sea." She was a masted, the forward two square-rigged, and a spread of canvas that enabled her to make eleven miles an hour in a fair breeze. She could carry from 120,000 to 130,000 gallons of gasoline, kerosene and lubricating oils.

Her first name was Principe, later changed to Asturias, and still later to Guadalupe. He was manager of the huge Venezuelan estates in the Transvaal until 1905, supervising the mining and manufacturing of brick and operating of gold mines. He returned to Canada and was in Toronto from 1905 until 1906, acting as consulting engineer for Mackenzie & Matheson, and his sons, operating properties in Colombia, Guyana and elsewhere in Northern Ontario.

Welsh Music Featured at Fine Concert

While many of the numbers were of the general popular classic variety, the majority of the programme was confined to purely Welsh music.

Other than those mentioned, three more sons are directly or indirectly interested in mining. R. W. Wilson is general manager of the Cottonwood Coal Co., at Great Falls, Montana; Bishop A. Wilson is manager of a coal mine near Pincher Creek, Southern Alberta, and Stafford T. Wilson manages the M. F. & M. Railway, a subsidiary of the Crown's Nest Pass Coal Company.

CARIBOO MINE STOCK OFFERED

Initial Development on Prospective Gold Done by W. R. Wilson

VANCOUVER, April 9.—Public financing, announced today in connection with Prospective Gold Mines, the largest of which is the Cariboo mine, has been assigned to W. R. Wilson, a pioneer mining family, which has been prominently associated with the preliminary development of the property and which will remain largely interested in it.

W. R. Wilson, a past president of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, and a member of the famous syndicate of Trid, Wood & Wilson, is the son and grandson of mining men. With his father, he first came to Canada from Wales to conduct the sinking of a difficult shaft in a Nova Scotia coal mine.

WORKED IN BRITAIN
Returning to England when the job was completed, he worked with his father at numerous mines in Britain, and throughout Europe. When he came back across the Atlantic, it was to engage in coal mining in the Pittsburgh area. He served as general manager of a company which was later to form the nucleus of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, the largest of such kind in the world. The company's interests frequently took him to Colorado in connection with metalliferous mining.

In 1898 he came to Fernie as general manager of the Crown's Nest Pass Coal Company, in which he acquired an interest. His tenure of office there was marked by persistent requests by the company to go to South Africa for it and its offers became so attractive that he was irrevocable in 1901. He was manager of the huge Venezuelan estates in the Transvaal until 1905, supervising the mining and manufacturing of brick and operating of gold mines. He returned to Canada and was in Toronto from 1905 until 1906, acting as consulting engineer for Mackenzie & Matheson, and his sons, operating properties in Colombia, Guyana and elsewhere in Northern Ontario.

RETURN TO B.C.
In 1911, "Jim" Hill, president of the Crown's Nest Pass Coal Company, persuaded him to return to Fernie. He increased his interest in the Crown's Nest Pass Coal Company, of which he remained president for several years. Since that time, he has maintained unbroken connection with the company, of which he remains president.

From 1911 to the present, Mr. Wilson has made a remarkable contribution to the British Columbia mining industry. He was a graduate of the University of Toronto, and a half-century resident manager of the Granby Company's Cassidy colliery. In 1912 he became consulting engineer for the largest of such kind in the world, the Cariboo mine, and organized the Syndicate, organized to find and develop promising properties.

ORGANIZED PREMIER
With R. K. Neill, of Spokane, this syndicate became interested in the Premier colliery, and organized the Premier Gold Mining Co., Ltd. In fourteen years, this mine has paid dividends of $5,000,000.

Pianist and Cellist Are Given Hearty Reception

Margaretha Lohmann and Kurt Reher Thrill Large Audience in Empress Hotel Ballroom—Programme Is One of Contrasts

Last night's concert programme by Margaretha Lohmann, pianist, and Kurt Reher, cellist, was but another gesture on the part of concert sponsors that the public of Victoria could expect a new deal in more senses than one under the heading of New Deal Concert Series. After the performance, there should be no qualms on the part of the public as to the quality of the remainder of the series. The joint recital, given in the Empress Hotel ballroom, was simply thrilling. The audience, numbering more than three hundred, became quite ecstatic in its applause, particularly when Miss Lohmann concluded Cesar Franck's "Prelude, Chorale and Fugue." This also was equally true of Mr. Reher, who was accorded the whole-hearted approbation of an exceedingly enthusiastic audience at the end of a group of four short studies in different moods.

While Beethoven's variations for cello and piano on a Mozart theme were very enjoyable and gave equal prominence to both instruments, the audience obviously preferred the instrumental solos in which the contrasts were most pronounced.

CONCERTO IS BEST
Mr. Reher's rendition of the first movement of Beethoven's "Concerto in B Flat Major" was unquestionably his outstanding piece. Divided into three movements, it gave the artist a study in contrasts, which he handled with a proficiency that became apparent in his playing. His fingering was so quick, and done with such facility, that it was almost dazzling. Although less spectacular than similar technique on the piano, the rapidity with which the cello moved his fingers over the strings, the truthfulness with which he bridged the wide gaps from low to high register to achieve contrast, was a musical treat not often afforded the public here.

Coupled with brilliant fingering was beautiful bowing admirably displayed when the softer passages were handled with a firmness that was striking. Mr. Reher's interpretative attributes have been remarkably well developed. He has the happy knack of being able to quickly change his mood. This was ably portrayed when he played his group of four numbers toward the close of the programme. They were "Serenade," by Paganini; "Minuet," by Debussy; and "Toccata," by Frescobaldi-Casadeo. His encore to this group was "Habenera," by Ravel, a piece full of almost Oriental mysticism. The artist was compelled to take a bow to his encore, so insistent was the applause.

The very successful 1934 season's Twilight Recital series came to an end on Sunday, when the Glee Temple Shrine Band, and assisting artists, gave the final programme at the Metropolitan United Church, testifying to the popularity of the series and the widespread regret at their termination.

The band numbers, all of which were well interpreted, were the hymn, "Unto the Hills"; march, "Under the Double Eagle"; descriptive overture, "Call of Bagdad"; descriptive overture, "Fall of Jericho"; characteristic intermezzo, "In a Monastery Garden"; solo piece, "First Heart Throbs"; "Service," by Cadman; and the final hymn, "Abide With Me."

LEAVE CLAYOQUOT

CLAYOQUOT, April 9.—Mr. and Mrs. C. Dawley embarked on the Ss. Princess Maquinna en route to Chemainus via Victoria. They will make their home in Chemainus. Their departure caused regret to residents of Clayoquot, where they lived for the past twenty years. Mr. Dawley will return later to finish a pleasure cruise which he has been building and will then cruise to his home in Chemainus.

"IT'S AN ILL WIND THAT BLOWS NOBODY ANY GOOD."

We have an inquiry for the origin of that well-known old saying: "It's an ill wind that blows nobody any good."

The allusion is, of course, to the fact that one man's loss is frequently another man's gain, that there are few cases even of misfortune that do not have some compensating element for someone.

This is among the oldest sayings in English speech. It goes back to the "Proverbs" of John Heywood, which was dated as 1565, and it is found also in the work of the contemporary, Thomas Tusser. The "Proverbs" have it in this form: "An ill wind that bloweth no man to good."

And Tusser, in "A Description of the Properties of Wind"—an ambitious title for those days—said: "Except wind stands as never it stood."

It is a ill wind turns none to good."

CONFUSION IN NAME SETTLED

Street Designation Made Twenty Years Ago Fails to Supercede Old One

Apart from the puzzlers that the city offers most visitors to Victoria with regard to the spelling of its street names, there is one that for twenty years has been a matter of periodic debate.

A new resident on Pandora Avenue, between Oak Bay Junction and Poul Bay Road, wrote to the city clerk yesterday asking for a ruling as to the name of the street. She says the banks and the British Columbia Electric Railway Company down the name of Pandora Avenue, which incidentally was named after one of the early naval ships stationed here.

Twenty years ago the city passed a by-law renaming the street Pandora Avenue, from the old name, Oak Bay Avenue. This was done because the street carried the name Pandora Avenue from Government Street as far as the Oak Bay Junction, and then changed to Oak Bay Avenue beyond that point. The city clerk has written to inform the woman that the name of her street is Pandora Avenue.

However, the spelling of Blanchard (Blanchard, Edward (Pisguard), and other street names, have yet to be settled, if the spelling on signs at street corners can be taken as any criterion. Walking along these streets, one finds the spelling alternates every block.

MANY PERSONS INSPECT AUTO

New Graham Model Centre of Attraction at Plimley's Showrooms Yesterday

Scores of persons visited the showrooms of Thomas Plimley, Ltd., yesterday, to see the new 1934 Graham automobile, with its revolutionary developments in engineering and design, according to Ernest Eve, of Thomas Plimley, Ltd., local Graham dealers.

"There has been tremendous public interest in the Graham custom eight, the first medium-sized automobile to present a supercharger," said Mr. Eve, "and there has been equal interest by those who have observed the smooth riding qualities, the striking interior design, the improved engine performance, the new clear-vision ventilating system, and the many refinements in the exterior of the new Graham. There is no question but that the new Graham, with its many exclusive features and its 1934 developments, is the best car the Graham-Palmer Motors Corporation ever built."

ENGINE PERFORMANCE

The improvements in engine performance, Mr. Eve stated, are due to refinements of the standard eight and the six-cylinder engines to keep pace with the supercharged engine of the Graham custom eight. In the standard eight, he said, the cylinder head has been redesigned to give a higher compression ratio. New rubber mountings for the six-cylinder engine provide flexibility at all speeds, giving the car a smoothness of performance comparable to that of an eight. Despite the improved performance, gasoline and oil economy have been further increased.

The Graham line for 1934, he said, includes the custom eight with supercharger, a standard eight, and a six-cylinder car with either deluxe or standard equipment. All cars feature the aluminum cylinder head, full-length water jacketing, banjo frame and improved outboard springs developed by Graham engineers, but with more powerful engines and improved riding qualities. The interior design of the de luxe six and all eight is developed by Norman Bel Geddes, in collaboration with Graham engineers.

EXPRESS AMAZEMENT

"Many persons who have seen the new cars," declared Mr. Eve, "have expressed amazement at the efficiency of the supercharged engine of the custom eight, in which the horsepower is increased 42 per cent without sacrificing economy. The supercharger is the first ever installed in any but the highest-priced car in this country. Because the supercharger vapourizes the mixture of fuel and air more thoroughly than is otherwise possible, a leaner, more economical mixture is used. The present supercharged motor of the Graham custom eight delivers 135-horsepower, as compared with 95-horsepower in last year's Graham straight-eight engine."

FULL CREW GOES BACK TO WOODS

COURTENAY, April 9 (CP).—A full crew of 200 men went back to work today, at Camp Three of the Comox Logging & Railway Company, near here, on the basis of the forty cents per hour minimum wage, established by the British Columbia Board of Industrial Relations. All the men were previously employed at the camp.

The other three camps operated by the company had continued to operate during the strike of loggers that partially paralyzed the industry on Vancouver Island.

What Today Means

"ARIES"

If April 10 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:45 to 11:45 a.m., from 3:45 to 5:45 p.m., and from 9:45 to midnight. The danger periods are from 8:45 to 9:45 a.m., from 12:45 to 2:45 p.m., and from 6:45 to 8:45 p.m.

In your social activities on this date, it probably will prove wise to carefully refrain from expressing an opinion on any topic with which you are not familiar. If you should disregard this advice, there is a possibility of your being "tripped up" by some one who does know all about the subject under discussion, which would leave you in an embarrassing position.

The women born on April 10 will find existence much more alluring if she does not go around continually with a chip on her shoulder. Avoid being contentious. You are too prone to think that people go out of their way to offend and many times an entirely innocent remark, made in a jocular way, causes you resentment, when no affront was intended. Do your best to overcome being super-sensitive.

The child born on April 10, as it grows up, will pass through a phase where it would rather have a good scrap than eat. Do not let this characteristic disturb you in the slightest degree, for it will prove to be only one of the periodic changes in the child's life, and is brought on by a superabundance of energy. Children born on April 10, as a matter of fact, have a great deal of tender affection, and would not deliberately do anything to hurt anyone. By pointing out the errors of its ways, they will be corrected.

The woman born on April 10 should curb any tendency she has of being overly inquisitive regarding the personal affairs of her friends. Being rather secretive in regard to your own private matters, it may prove discreet to recognize the rights of others in this respect, and not insist on knowing what they many times apparently do not care to tell.

HIS CAREER REMARKABLE

Once Christian Teacher, International Spy Is Now
Buddhist Abbot

Lutheran Church preacher, Presbyterian missionary to the Jews in Canada, an Anglican curate in England, secretary to a leading British Liberal, Unionist member of the British House of Commons, censor under the British Government in the early days of the Great War, member of the German spy ring in the United States, a prisoner in England after being deported from New York as a foreigner, a deportee from England to Hungary after serving his sentence, sentenced to death as a rebel in connection with the Kapp-Putsch, which attempted to overthrow the German Republic; granted an amnesty in 1925 for this offence, and a year later arrested as a spy in Austria, and now a Buddhist abbot, is but part of the remarkable story of Ignatius Trelich Lincoln, who came to Victoria yesterday aboard the Ss. Empress of Russia, with a number of Buddhist monks and nuns.

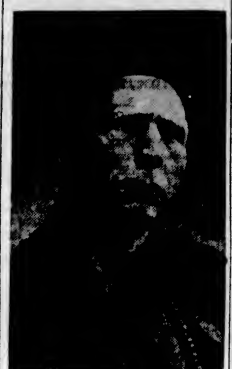

In the lounge of the liner, shortly after her arrival at the local dock, Abbot Chao Kung, as he is now known, told newspapermen that he was "happy and glad to be able to land without let or hindrance as his true self for the first time since the war in British territory." He could not disguise the fact that his life had been a colorful one, he added, and that he had received a lot of notoriety from the press in his time. Whether it was all true or not, he was now a Buddhist, with the past entirely behind him.

There was only peace in his heart towards all men and nations. He had no more enmity towards British authority, felt that friendship was better than hostility in the long run, and he intended to telegraph Premier Bennett and Ramsay MacDonald as soon as he arrived in Vancouver, thanking them for the privileges he was being accorded.

PLANS INDEFINITE
Abbot Chao Kung stated he had been in British Columbia before, but was known as a Buddhist monk at that time, and not as Lincoln. That was in 1927, two years after he had embraced Buddhism. He spent some time in Vancouver and in the Okanagan, and was entertained by a number of people. Had suitable arrangements been made, he would have stopped off in Victoria to speak; but was unable to state whether he would make any public appearances in Canada or not. His party was going to Germany, where he intended to establish a monastery for the instruction of novitiates in the tenets of Buddhism. He qualified this statement, however, saying that they would locate in Germany if conditions were favorable.

Chatting about Buddhism, the abbot stated that it practised no religion or creed as generally accepted. Buddhists believed in and practised all things that normal human beings believed in, but were never extremists in anything, never going too much to the left or to the right, but maintaining the centre of the way all the time. Nor did they believe in the castigation of the body, their duty as true Buddhists being primarily to treat it naturally. As a result, they did not gorge it with food. Ordinarily, they only ate in the middle of the day, never in the evening, but aboard ship they had also partaken of a light breakfast.

DEAD LOVE WON'T MAKE HAPPY MARRIAGE

Dear Miss Vane: I have been engaged for five years. I have given up everything for my fiancé. I am still in love with him, but he is tired of me or thinks he is. I know that we are wonderful companions, and I believe that I could make him happier than could the girl in whom he is now interested. I want him to stick to the engagement. I have all way connected with the man I love. I have been engaged for so long circumstances have I not the right to demand that my man should stick to me and go through with the marriage. I am older than he is, and believe I know what is best for him—Jilted.

Sorry Jilted, but I can't OK your suggestion that you should force your man to the altar at the point of a gun. Or that you should wear down his resistance with tears and entreaties and reminders of all you've done for him.

This is a case in which the rights and wrongs don't matter. It may be true that you've made sacrifices for your sweetheart. It may be unfair that he should throw you over now just when marriage is imminent. It may be the height of injustice that you should be left on the shelf while he goes gayly off with another sweetie.

But right or wrong, just or unjust, the man must have his way. He must be allowed to decide for himself whether or not he's in love. He can be of no help to any girl if he's outgrown his affection for her.

You say you could make him happy. Jilted, but I'm afraid you're wrong. With splendid optimism you see yourself making a perfect home for him, surrounding him with love and understanding, ministering to his needs and thus building up a successful marriage.

You don't realize how much you're demanding the impossible of yourself. Have you the patience and the courage and tolerance to live with a man who is truly out of love with you? To forgive his irritation, to ignore his indifference—to accept his ingratitude with meekness?

You know by this time that the most loving husband has had moods and occasionally shown a hurting lack of appreciation of his adoring young wife. Can you imagine, then, how difficult it would be to stand the moods and depression of a man who believes in his heart of hearts that he has been buffeted into marriage?

No, Jilted, I am afraid that your hero couldn't make you happy—under the circumstances. And with the best intentions in the world you wouldn't help letting him down badly if he made you unhappy.

Try to understand that you have not lost the sun and the moon and the stars in losing this man's love. You have lost what was obviously a good imitation of love. You have lost the chance to marry a man whose feeling for you was not deep and strong enough to survive the test of time. Your very human heart may cry to have back your love—perfect or imperfect. You must summon your common sense to help you realize that this experience came to you in time before there was a home to break up, children to forsake, and a chance for two lives to be shattered.

For you say you would like to help him further, but you must help yourself in this emergency. Break away from the thought of What Might Have Been—free yourself from this entanglement which can never bring you happiness and don't give up hope of What's Going To Be.

A LETTER FROM AN OLD-FASHIONED GIRL

Dear Virginia Vane: I read in your column, some time ago, a letter from Bachelor From Necessity, and I have something to say to him about his ideas of old-fashioned girls.

I am twenty-six and called old-fashioned because I do not smoke, drink, dance or play cards. Because of this, my friends ridicule me and say that no boy wants my kind of girl.

Rather than be ridiculed I have no boy friends and I stay home most of the time. I am waiting till someone comes along who does the things I like to do and I guess I'll be waiting forever.

My friends tell me that I am too particular and that I ought to be more modern, but I am satisfied to stay the way I am.

I can tell Bachelor that there are plenty of old-fashioned girls left, but they have to be found. They can't be picked up anywhere. Wait and hope, Friend Bachelor, and if you stick to your ideals, you'll find the girl you want some day.

TOO OLD-FASHIONED

And while Bachelor is waiting and hoping, my old-fashioned friend, and make up your mind to stop worrying about what you DON'T do—and concentrate on what you CAN do well.

There is no harm in dancing or playing cards, so long as your religious principles don't interfere. And there is no point in sitting around looking virtuously indignant when others pursue a course of action which you find distasteful.

Perhaps your friends are right in suggesting that you might adopt a different attitude toward modern methods and habits. No need for you to take up habits which you detest fundamentally. But surely you can learn to live and let live so that you are not so obviously hostile to the modern generation. You can be as old-fashioned as you like so long as being old-fashioned isn't your principal occupation.

Have some positive value in the world. Be somebody. Rest assured that if you have personality and charm of your own sort, you'll be discovered by the kind of man you want some day.

Whereas if you sit at home counting up the things you're too nice to do, your personality is bound to be spoiled and your charms will remain hidden forever.

CANADIAN TENOR
ON AIR TONIGHT

Edward Johnson Headlines London
Life Programme on Canadian Lines This Evening

EDWARD JOHNSON

Music lovers in all parts of Canada will welcome the announcement that the London Life Insurance Company will sponsor an all-Canadian broadcast tonight, from 6 to 7:30 p.m.
Pacific Standard Time.

The occasion is the commemoration of the company's diamond jubilee anniversary. The broadcast will bring a thoroughly Canadian programme. The featured artist will be Edward Johnson, famous Canadian tenor. Reginald Stewart and his famous symphony orchestra, will accompany Mr. Johnson and also contribute full orchestra numbers.

During the ninety minutes the London Life will be on the air, the programme will cover Canada from coast to coast through the most extensive hook-up that has ever been used in Canada. Leaving the concert hall at the Royal York, Toronto, the broadcast will pick up sea channels from Halifax, French-Canadian folk-songs from Montreal; pause in Toronto for further numbers of Edward Johnson and Reginald Stewart; continue the journey to Winnipeg for a double piano number by Pratt and McLean. Regina will contribute a dramatic sketch of the Northwest Mounted Police; at Calgary the Excelsior Glee Party will sing, and from there the broadcast will continue to British Columbia to pick up the Vancouver Kitchikan Boys' Band, which won the world's junior band championship at the Century of Progress Exposition at Chicago.

Back in Toronto, Edward Johnson and Reginald Stewart will conclude this remarkable broadcast with a group of numbers.

HELP WANTED—MALE
FORMER FOREIGN ARMY
GENERAL

To sing, dance, and walk on tables.
Apply evenings, Mr. Zolt, Broadway Hotel, 165 West 45th. Ad in New York Times.

The depression must be hitting the armies.

A young man proposed to a girl
and was accepted. After their first tender transports were over they fell into serious talk "that we are engaged," said the girl, "we must begin to economize. Promise me, darling, that you won't do anything you can't afford."

"If I promised you that," he said,
"I'd have to break off our engagement."

More than a hundred Saanich men gathered Sunday at Hampton Road Park and elected William B. White, defeated council candidate in January and relief organizer, as president of the Workers' Protective Association. The function of the association will be to protect the relief men from alleged unjust treatment on the part of the municipal council under its new works programme.

H. Penland was elected secretary.
Delegates from various wards were selected to aid in organization plans.
The group will meet next Sunday at 2:30 o'clock at Reynolds Park, Lake Hill, to complete organization. At the meeting, Mr. White and P. D.
Wilson outlined the aims of the

TWO-DAY CHURCH
CONFERENCE ENDS

James Bay Wins Attendance Shield
at Young People's Union Gathering

James Bay Young People's Society culminated a fine year of activity and service by winning the attendance shield of the United Church Young People's Union. The shield was presented to the society during the final ceremonies of the annual Spring conference, held at First United Church, during the week-end.

Rev. C. G. MacKenzie, of Centenial Church, in presenting the shield, commented on the fine work done by the James Bay Young People during the past year, and congratulated them upon obtaining a perfect score in the competition for the shield. Victoria West was second, and Sidney third.

HOLD SERVICE

Following Sunday morning services at various churches, the opening devotional service of the second and last day of the conference was held in the afternoon, at First United Church, in charge of Oak Bay Y.P.S. Immediately after the service, the large gathering was addressed by Dr. Willard Brewster, of St. Andrew's-Wesley Church, Vancouver.

Reports of the previous day's discussion groups were then tendered by James McCague on personal relief; Miss Winnie Thornley on social service, and Miss Ellis Walter on use of leisure hours. In the evening, members of the union who were delegates to the conference, spoke at various churches throughout the city and district.

Commenting on the gathering,
Donald McCain, who was re-elected for a further term as president of the union, declared that the conference was one of the most successful ever held.

A young man proposed to a girl
and was accepted. After their first tender transports were over they
fell into serious talk "that we are engaged," said the girl, "we must begin to economize. Promise
me, darling, that you won't do anything you can't afford."

"If I promised you that," he said,
"I'd have to break off our engagement."

Present at Fete

The annual reunion dinner of the Amputations' Association of the Great War was held in the dining-room of the Hudson's Bay Company, there being about eighty present, including the wives and friends of the members of the local branch.

The president, A. Palmer, who occupied the chair, welcomed the guests present, and read letters, regretting their inability to attend, from Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Sir Percy Lake, Dr. Cyril Wace and R. Henderson.

An enjoyable programme of entertainment was provided by the following artists: Miss D. Bagshawe,
Miss Perry, Miss L. Holden, G.
Ingledew and J. Dobbie, the accompanists for the evening being

Mrs. G. G. MacAfee and J. Fingler.

The toast to "The Ladies," was proposed by J. Davey and suitably replied to by Mrs. Ella, first vice-president, Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E.
P. R. Wells responded to the toast to the Amputations' Association, and J. Waterson, of the Pro Patria Branch, Canadian Legion, replied the excuses, but he has to make the toast to kindred associations, allowances.
